PRESIDENT'S TSSAGE.

Fellow-Citizens of the Senate and House of Representatives Another year of health and of sufficiently abundant harvests has passed. For these and especially for the improved condition of our national affairs four renewed and profoundest gratitude to God is due. We remain in peace and friendship with foreign powers. The ef-forts of disloyal citizens of the United States to involve us in foreign wars, to aid in an inexcusable insurrection, have been unavailing. Her Britannic Majesty's Government, as was justly expected, have exercised their authority o prevent the departure of new hostile expe-itions from British ports. The Emperor of France has by a like proceeding promptly vin-dicated the neutrality which he proclaimed at the beginning of the contest. Questions of great intricacy and importance have arisen out of the blockade and other belligerent op-of the maritime powers, but they have been discussed, and, as far as was possible, accommodated, in a spirit of frankness, justice, and It is especially gratifying that our prize courts, by the impartiality of their adjudications, have commanded the respect and confidence of maritine powers. The supplemental treaty between the United States and Great Britain for the suppression of the African slave trade, made on the 17th day of February last, has been duly ratified and carried into execution. It is believed, that, so far as American ports and American citizens are concerned, the inhuman and odious traffic has been brought to an end.

I shall submit for the consideration of the Senate a convention for the adjustment of possessory claims in Washington Territory, arising out of the treaty of the 15th of June, 1846, between the United States and Great Britain, and which have been the source of some disquiet among the citizens of that now rapidly improving part of the country.

A novel and important question, involving the extent of the maritime jurisdiction of Spain in the waters which surround the Island of Cuba, has been debated without reaching an exception. reaching an agreement, and it is proposed in an amicable spirit to refer it to the arbitra-ment of a friendly power. A convention for that purpose will be submitted to the Senate. I have thought it proper, subject to the approval of the Senate, to concur with the interested commercial powers in an arrangement for the liquidation of the Scheldt dues upon the prisciples which have been heretofore a pied in regard to the imposts upon navigation in the waters of Denmark.

The long pending controversy between this Government and that of Chili, touching the seizure at Sitania, in Peru, by Chilian officers, of a large amount of treasure belonging to citizens of the United States, has been brought to a close by the award of his majesty the King of the Belgians, to whose arbitration the question was referred by the parties. The subject was thoroughly and patiently exam-ined by that justly respected magistrate, and although the sum awarded to the claimants attough the sum awarded to the claimants may not have been as large as was expected, there is no reason to distrust the wisdom of his Majesty's decision. That decision was promptly complied with by Chili when intelligence in regard to it reached that country. The joint commission, under the act of the last session, for carrying into effect the convention with Penn on the sphiest the convention with Peru on the subject of claims, has been organized at Lima, and is engaged in the business entrusted to it. Difficulties concerning interoceanic-transit through Nicaragua are in course of amicable

In no instance, however, is it expressly stipulated that in the event of a civil war a foreigner residing in this country within the lines of the insurgents is to be exempted from the rule which classes him as a belligerent, in whose behalf the Government of his country cannot expect any privileges or immunities distinct from that character.

I regret to say, however, that such claims have been put forward, and, in some instances, behalf of foreigners who have lived in the United States the greater part of their lives. There is reason to believe that many vho have been fully naturalized, have evaded Government the burden of proof.

It has been found difficult or impracticable to obtain this proof from the want of guides to the proper sources of information. These might be supplied by requiring clerks of courts, where declarations of intention may be made or naturalizations effected, to send periodically lists of the names of the persons naturalized or declaring their intention to beranged and printed for general information.

There is also reason to believe that foreign-

As this Gov-ernment expects redress from other powers ernment expects redress from other powers when similar injuries are inflicted by persons in their service upon citizens of the United States, we must be prepared to do justice to foreigners. If the existing judicial tribunals are inadequate to this purpose, a special court may be authorized, with power to hear and decide such claims of the character referred to as may have arisen under treaties and the public law. Conventions for adjusting the the public law. Conventions for adjusting the claims by joint commission have been proposed to some Governments, but no definitive

In the course of the session I shall probably have occasion to request you to provide indemnification to claimants where decrees of restitution have been rendered and damages awarded by Admiralty Courts, and in other cases where this Government may be acknowledged to be liable in principle, and where the amount of that liability has been ascertained by an informal arbitration. The proper officers of the Treasury have deemed themselves required by the law of the deemed themselves required by the law of the United States upon the subject to demand a tax upon the incomes of foreign consuls in this tax upon the incomes of foreign consuls in this country. While such a demand may not, in strictness, be in derogation of public law, or perhaps of any existing treaty between the United States and a foreign country, the expediency of so far modifying the act as to exempt from tax the income of such consuls as are not citizens of the United States, derived from the emoluments of their office or from property not signed. erations between the government and several their office, or from property not situated in the United States, is submitted to your serious indicated. The United States, I think, ought not to be exceptionably illiberal to international trade and commerce.

The operations of the Treasury during the last year have been successfully conducted. The enactment by Congress of a National banking law has proved a valuable support of public credit; and the general legislation in relation to loans has fully answered the expectations of its favorers. Some amendments may be required to perfect existing laws, but no change in their principals or general scope is believed to be needed.

Since these measures have been in opera-

Since these measures have been in opera-tion, all demands on the treasury, including pay of the army and navy, have been promptly met and fully satisfied. No considerable body of troops, it is believed, were ever more amply provided, more liberally and punctually paid, and, it may be added, that by no le were the burdens incident to a great war including loans and the balance in the treasury at its commencement, were $901,125.674 86, and the aggregate disbursements, $895,796,630 65, leaving a balance on the 1st of July, 1863, of $5,329,044 21. Of the receipts, there were derived from customs $69,059,642 40; from internal revenue, $37,640,787 95; from direct taxes, $1,485,103 61; from lands, $167,-617 17; from miscellaneous sources, $3,046,-615 35; and from loans, $776,682,361 57; making the aggregate of $901,125,-674 86. Of the disbursements, there were for the civil service $23,253,922 08; for pensions and Indians, $4,216,520,79; for interpensions and Indians, $4 216,520 79; for inter-pensions and Indians, $4 216,520 79; for interest on public debt, $24.729,846 51; for the War Department, $599,298,600 83; for the Navy Department, $63,211,105 27; for payment of funded and temporary debt, $181,086,635 07; making the aggregate $895,796,630 65; and leaving a balance of $5,329,044 21.

But the payment of funded and temporary debt, having been made from moneys borrowed during the year, must be regarded as merely nominal payments, and the moneys merely nominal payments, and the moneys borrowed to make them as merely nominal receipts, and their amount—$181,086,-635 07—should therefore be deducted both from receipts and disbursements. It has apof Ordnance, and Surgeon General. It has appeared impossible to make a valuable summary of this report, except such as would be too extended for this place, and hence I content myself by asking your careful attention

The duties devolving on the naval branch of the service during the year and throughout the whole of this unhappy contest have been discharged with fidelity and eminent success. The extensive blockade has been constantly increasing in efficiency, as the Navy has expanded; yet on so long a line it has so far been impossible to entirely suppress illicit trade. From returns received at the Navy Department, it appears that more than one thousand vessels have been captured since the blockade was instituted, and that the value of prizes already sent in for adjuditions. cation amounts to over $13,000,000. The naval force of the United States consists at this time of 588 vessels completed, and in course of completion, and of these seventy-five are the war give an increased interest and impor-tance to the navy which will probably ex-tend beyond the war itself. The armored vessels in our navy, completed and in service, or which are under contract or approaching completion, are believed to exceed in number those of any other power; but while these may be relied upon for harbor defence and coast service, others of greater e ground of alienage.

In common with other Western powers, our strength and capacity will be necessary for cruising purposes, and to maintain our right-ful position on the ocean. The change that has taken place in naval vessels and naval warfare since the introduction of steam as a ernmental establishments. The necessity of such a navy-yard, so furnished, at some on repeated occasions been brought to the attention of Congress by the Navy Department, and is again presented in the report of the Secretary, which accompanies this communication. I think it my duty to invite your special attention to this subject, and also to that of establishing a yard and depot for naval purposes upon one of the Western rivers. A naval force has been created on these interior waters and under many disadvantages within waters, and under many disadvantages, within little more than two years, exceeding in numbers the whole naval force of the country proximity to navigable waters. Without the advantage of public works, the resources of

While the demand for labor is thus increased here, tens of thousands of persons, destitute of remunerative occupation, are thronging our foreign consulates and offering to eming seamen and also the education of officers and engineers for the naval service. The naval service in preparing ing of civil war, the nation is beginning and ought to receive the attention and support of the Government. Injuries, unforeseen by the Government and unintendinations from the States in insurrection, have been filled by the Secretary of the Navy. The school is now more full and complete than at any former period, and in every respect entitled to the favorable consideration of Con-

During the past fiscal year, the financial condition of the Postoffice Department has been one of increasing prosperity, and I am gratified in being able to state that the actual postal revenue has nearly equalled the entire expenditures, the latter amounting to entire expenditures, the latter amounting to $11,314,206 84, and the former to $11,163,789 59, leaving a deficiency of but $150,417 25 In 1860, the year immediately preceding the rebellion, the deficiency amounted to $5,656,705 49, the postal receipts of that year being $2,645,722 19 less than those of 1863. The decrease since 1860 in the annual amount of transportation has been only about 25 per cent; but the annual expenditures on account of the same has been reduced 35 per cent. It is manifest, therefore, that the Postoffice Department may become self-sustaining in a few years, even with the restoration of the whole service. The international conference of postal delegates from the principal countries of Europe and America, which was called at the Europe and America, which was called at the suggestion of the Postmaster-General, met at Paris on the 11th of May last, and concluded its deliberations on the 8th of June. The principles established by the conference as best adapted to facilitate postal intercourse between nations, and as the basis of future postal conventions, inaugurate a general system of uniform international charges at reduced rates of postage, and cannot fail to pro-

I refer you to the report of the Secretary of the Interior, which is herewith laid Setore you, for useful and varied information in relation to the public lands, Indian affairs, relation to the public lands, Indian affairs, patents, pensions, and other matters of public concern pertaining to this department. The quastity of land disposed of during the last and the first quarter of the present fiscal years was three million eight hundred and forty one thousand five hundred and forty-nine acres, of which one hundred and sixty-one thousand nine hundred and aloven acres were sand nine hundred and eleven acres were sold for cash, one million four hundred and fitty-six thousand five hundred and fourteen fity-six thousand five hundred and fourteen acres were taken up under the homestead law, and the residue disposed of under laws granting lands for military bounties, for railroad, and other purposes. It also appears that the sale of public lands is largely on the increase. It has long been a cherished opinion of some of our wisest statesmen that the people of the United States had been and more address. of our wisest statesmen that the people of the United States had a higher and more enduring interest in the early settlement and substantial cultivation of the public lands than in the amount of direct revenue to be derived from the sale of them. This opinion has had a controlling influence in shaping legislation upon the subject of our national demain.

I may cite, as evidence of this, the liberal measures adopted in reference to actual set-tlers; the grant to the States of the overflowed lands within their limits in order to their being reclaimed and rendered fit for cultivation; the grants to railway companies of alternate sections of land upon the contemplat-ed lines of their roads, which, when completed, ed lines of their roads, which, when completed, will so largely multiply the facilities for reaching our distant possessions. This policy has received its most signal and beneficial illustration in the recent enactment granting homesteads to actual settlers.

Since the first day of January last the before-mentioned quantity of 1,456,514 acres of land have been taken up under its provisions. This fact and the amount of sales furnish gratifying evidence of increasing settlement upon the public lands, not withstanding the great struggle in which the energies of the nation struggle in which the energies of the nation have been engaged, and which has required so large a withdrawal of our citizens from their accustomed pursuits.

I cordially concur in the recommendation of the Secretary of the Interior, suggesting a gaged in the military and naval service of the United States. I doubt not that Congress will cheerfully adopt such measures as will, United States of Colombia, and have accredited a Minister to that republic.

Incidents occurring in the progress of our civil war have forced upon my attention the uncertain state of international questions of the current fiscal year of 1864, will be sufficiently adopt such measures as will, without essentially changing the general features of the system, secure, to the greatest practicable extent, its benefits to those who have left their homes in the defence of the current fiscal year of 1864, will be propriate legislation, a revenue from the mineral lands of the United States. The measures provided at your last session for the removal of certain Indian tribes have been carried into effect. Sundry treaties have been negotiated which will in due time be submitted for the constitutional action of the Senate. They contain stipulations for extinguishing the possessory rights of the Indians to large and valuable tracts of land.

It is hoped that the effect of these treatics will result in the establishment of permanent friendly relations with such of these tribes as have been brought into frequent and bloody collision with our outlying settlements and emigrants. Sound policy and our impera-tive duty to these wards of the government demand our anxious and constant attention to their material well-being, to their progress in the arts of civilization, and, above all, to that moral training which, under the blessings of moral training which, under the dessings of Divine Providence, will confer upon them the elevated and sanctifying influences, the hopes and consolations of the Christian faith.

I suggested in my last annual message the propriety of remodelling our Indian system. Subsequent events have satisfied me of its accessity. The details set forth in the report f the Secretary evince the urgent need for immediate legislative action. I commend the benevolent institutions, established or patronized by the Government in this District, to your generous and fostering

The attention of Congress, during last session, was engaged to some extent with the sion, was engaged to some extent with the proposition for enlarging the water communication between the Mississippi River and the northern seaboard; which proposition, however, failed for the time. Since then, upon a call of the greatest respectability, a convention has been held at Chicago upon the same subject, a summary of whose views is contained in a memorial addressed to the President and Congress and which I now have the honor to re long, will force its own way, I do not neertain a doubt, while it is submitted entirely to your wisdom as to what can be done Augmented interest is given to this subject by the actual commencement of work upon the Pacific Railroad, under auspices so favorable to rapid progress and com-pletion. The enlarged navigation becomes a palpable need to the great road.

I transmit the second annual report of the Commissioner of the Department of Agriculture, asking your attention to the develop-ments in that vital interest of the nation. When Congress assembled a year ago, the war had already lasted nearly twenty months, and there had been many conflicts on both land and sea, with varying results. The rebellion had been pressed back into reduced limits; yet thetone of public feeling, and opinion at home and abroad, was not satisfactory. With other signs, the popular elections, then just passed, indicated uneasiness among ourselves, while amid much that was cold and menacing blind to surrender a hopeless cause. Our commerce was suffering greatly by a few armed vessels built upon and furnished from foreign shores, and we were threatened with such additions from the same quarter as would sweep our trade from the sea and raise our blockade. We had failed to elicit from European Governments anything hopeful upon this subject. The preliminary emancipation proclamation, issued in Septhe final proclamation came, including the announcement that colored men of suitable condition would be received into the war ser vice. The policy of emancipation and of employing black soldiers gave to the future a new aspect, about which hope and fear and doubt contended in uncertain conflict. Acpresented. It came, and, as we anticipated, it was followed by dark and doubtful ydas. Eleven months having now passed, we are permitted to take another review. The rebel borders are pressed still further back, and, by the complete opening of the Mississippi, the country dominated by the rebellion is divided into distinct parts with as meaningless.

These measures have been much discussed in foreign countries, and contemporary with such discussions the tone of public sentiment there is much improved. At home the same measures have been fully disencouraging to those whose official duty it is to bear the country through this great trial. Thus we have the new reckoning. The crisis which threatened to divide the friends of the Union

> Looking now to the present and future. and with reference to a resumption of the na-tional authority within the States wherein that authority has been suspended, I have thought fit to issue a proclamation, a copy of which is herewith transmitted. On examina-tion of this proclamation it will appear, as is believed, that nothing is attempted beyond what is amply justified by the Constitution. True, the form of an oath is given, but no man s coerced to take it. The man is only promis-ed a pardon in case he voluntarily takes he oath. The Constitution authorizes the Executive to grant or withhold the par-don at his own absolute discretion; and this don at his own absolute discretion; and this includes the power to grant on terms, is as fully established by judicial and other authorities. It is also proffered that if, in any of the States named, a State government shall be, in the mode prescribed, set up, such government shall be recognized and guarantied by the United States, and that under it the State shall, on the constitutional conditions, be protected on the constitutional conditions, be protected on the constitutional conditions, and this in any way in treating colored persons, or white persons in charge of such, otherwise than lawfully as prisoners of war, and which persons may have been found in the United States service as soldiers, seamen, or in any other capacity.
> And I do further proclaim, declare, and make known that whenever in any of the States of Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana, Missisagainst invasion and domestic violence. The constitutional obligation of the United States to guaranty to every State in the Union a republican form of government, and to protect the State in the cases stated, is explicit and full.

the State in the cases stated, is explicit and full.
But why tender the benefits of this provision only to a State Government set up in this particular way? This section of the Constitution contemplates a case wherein the element within a State, favorable to republican government, in the Union, may be too feeble for an opposite and hostile be too feeble for an opposite and hostile element external to or even within the State; and such are precisely the cases with which we are now dealing. An attempt to guaranty and protect a revived State Government, constructed in whole or in preponderating part from the very element against whose hostility and violence it is to be protected, is simply absurd. There must be a test by which to separate the opposing elements so as to build only from the sound; and that test is a sufficiently liberal one which accepts as sound whoever will make a sworn recantation of his former unsoundness.

But if it be proper to require, as a test of admission to the political body, an oath of allegiance to the Constitution of the United States and to the Union under it, why also to the laws and proclamation in regard to slavery? Those laws and proclamations were enacted and put forth for the purpose of aiding in the suppression of the rebellion.
To give them their fullest effect, there had to be a pledge for their maintenance. In my judg-ment, they have aided, and will further aid, the cause for which they were intended. To now abandon them would be not only to relinquish a lever of power, but would also be a cruel and astounding breach of faith.

I may add at this point that while I remain in my present position I shall not attempt to retract or modify the emancipation proclamation; nor shall I return to slavery any person who is free by the terms of that proclamation, or by any of the acts of Congress. For these and other reasons it is thought best that support of these measures shall be included in the oath; and it is believed the Executive may lawfully claim it in return for pardon and restoration of forfeited rights, which he has clear constitutional power to withhold altogether, or grant upon the terms which he shall deem wisest for the public interest. It should e National Executive to prevent an abuse is bridged by the proposition.

The suggestion in the proclamation as o maintaining the political framework of the States on what is called reconstruction is made in the hope that it may do

But why any proclamation now upon this abject? This question is beset with the conicting views that the step might be delayed too long or be taken too soon. In some States the elements for resumption seem ready for action, but remain inactive, apparently for want of a rallying point—a plan of action.
Why shall A adopt the plan of B, rather than B that of A? And if A and B should agree, how can they know but that the General Government here will reject their plan? By the proclamation a plan is presented which may be accepted by them as a rallying point, and which they are assured in advance will not be rejected here. This may bring them to act sooner than they otherwise would.

The objections to a premature presentation of a plan by the National Executive consist in the decrease of the second ould be more safely left to further developocument as to avoid embarrassments from document as to avoid emparrassments from this source. Saying that, on certain terms, certain classes will be pardoned, with rights restored, it is not said that other classes, or other terms, will never be included.

Saying that reconstruction will be accepted f presented in a specified way, it is not said t will never be accepted in any other way.

The movements, by State action, for emancipation in several of the States, not included cipation in several of the States, not included in the emancipation proclamation, are matters of profound gratulation. And while I do not repeat in detail what I have here-tofore so earnestly urged upon this subject, my general views and feelings remain unchanged; and I trust that Congress will omit no fair opportunity of aiding these important steps to a great consummation.

In the midst of other cares, however important we must not loss sight of the fact portant, we must not lose sight of the faci ance. To that power alone can we look, yet for a time, to give confidence to the people in the contested regions, that the insurgent power will not again overrun them. Until that confidence shall be established. reconstruction. Hence our chiefest care must still be directed to the army and navy, who have thus fer borne their harder part so nobly and well. And it may be esteemed fortunate that, in giving the greatest efficiency to these indispensable arms, we do also hon-orably recognize the gallant men, from commander to sentinel, who compose them, and disenthralled, regenerated, enlarged,

And I do further proclaim, declare, and make known, that any provision which may be adopted by such State government in relation to the freed people of such State, which shall recognize and declare their permanent freedom, provide for their education, and which may yet be consistent as a temporary arrangement with their present condition as a laboring, landless, and homeless class, will not be objected to by the National Executive. And it is suggested as not improper that, in constructing a loyal State government in any State, the name of the State, the boun-the general code of laws, as before the feber-lion, be maintained, subject only to the mod-ifications made necessary by the conditions hereinbefore stated, and such others, if any, not contravening said conditions and which may be deemed expedient by those framing the new State government.

To avoid misunderstanding, it may be proper to say that this proclamation, so far as it relates to State governments, has no reference to States wherein loyal State governments have all the while been maintained. And, for the same reason, it may be proper to further say, that, whether members sent to Congress from any State shall be admitted to seats condeem wisest for the public interest. It should be observed a so that this part of the oath is subject to the modifying and abrogating power of legislation and supreme judicial decision.

The proposed acquiescence of the national Executive in any reasonable temporary State strangement for the freed people is made with the view of possibly modifying the confusion and destitution which must, at best, attend all classes by a total revolution of labor throughout whole States. It is hoped that the already deeply afflicted people in those States may be somewhat more ready to give up the cause of their affliction, if, to this extent, this vital matter be left to themselves: while no power of the states wherein the national authority and loyal State governments may be re-established within said States, or in any of them; and, while the mode presented is the best the Executive can suggest, with his present impressions, it must not be understood that no pressions, it must not be understood that no pressions.

The Missouri radicals are making another

The conscription law was proposed to be amended by bills to day, as follows: The repeal of the $300 clause and the exemption of clergymen from liabilities to military service. The new bounty bill for the army before the Senate Committee on Military Affairs proposes the payment of $400 dollars to those who have served nine months and those who have served nine months and those who have yet another year to serve, and to all other persons $300. $25 premium is then paid for the enlistment of each veteran volunteer, and $15 for every other volunteer. $75,000,000 is appropriated for the bounties.

This bill puts negro soldiers, who have been or may be enlisted, on exactly the same footing, in every respect, as white troops. A select committee of nine will be announced to-morrow in the House on a bureau of

There are additional reasons for believing that Gen. Schofield will soon be removed and that a man whose heart is with what are called the radicals will be put in his place. As to any change in the Cabinet nothing is positively known.
Senator Bayard, of Delaware, never having taken the anti-rebellion oath required by the act of the last session, was informally react of the last session, was informally reminded of the fact by the Vice President today and requested to say whether he was prepared to take it, and he replied in the negative, adding that if the Senate, by a formal vote, required him to take it he should resign. SENATE.

Mr. Wilson presented memorials asking for an increase of pay for paymaster's clerks, hospital stewards, and inspectors of customs Mr. Lane, of Kansas, introduced, on leave, a bill providing that all traffic in gold and sil-ver and foreign exchange for speculative purposes, or the purchase through a broker by lepositing less than the full amount of the Section three prohibits the sale of gold, silver, or foreign exchange, unless actually delivered and paid for on delivery.

Section four provides as the penalty for violating any of the provisions of the act, on conviction before the United States District Court in the district where the offence is compitted as any of not less than one not more mitted, a sum of not less than one nor more than ten thousand dollars, and imprisonment for not less than one nor more than twelve months for each offence.

Mr. Foote introduced a bill granting public lends to the People's Pacific Railroad and Telegraph Line, by the northern route, and asked that the bill be refefred to a special committee.

Mr. Johnson deemed it perfectly clear that humanity, which is the highest political principle, points to a continuance of the exchange of prisoners. He proceeded to combat the opinion of the Senator from Kentucky Mr. Davis, that these men should not be protected, corrected his views of the power of the President by quoting from the constitution relative to the executive and legislative powers.

Mr. Davis replied, saying that the preamble of the constitution offers no power on the Government, the Supreme Court had so interpretted. He is also claimed the right to suspend the writ of habeas corpus, which was a legislative usurpation of the powers to be exercised, are conferred by the constitution alone, and there are now powers vested in the Government which are not conferred by the constitution, hence the President cannot raise troops or arms, nor has the power to organize any measure to put down insurrection without the assent of Congress. It was the determination of the party in power that the war shall continue till the ganize any measure to put down insur-rection without the assent of Congress. It was the determination of the party in power that the war shall continue till the next Presidential election. The war would have been brought to a close long ago if the administration had in good faith devoted itof their opposition to slavery.

Motions of reference of the respective subjects embraced in the President's message were then entered, and the same were referred to the appropriate committee.

Mr. Lane, of Indiana, introduced a bill to amend the act entitled an act to define and punish conspiracy, passed July 31, 1861; also the 24th section of the act for enrolling and calling out the national forces, passed March

ALT HOUSE STAKE, F. 1884. Mr. Hendricks introduced a bill to extend the time in which States may avail themselves of the grant of land for agricultural colleges.

Mr. Davis, of Kentucky, called up the resolution in relation to the exchange of prisoners, arguing vehemently against the policy of refusing to exchange white soldiers, because the rebels refuse to exchange the negro captives. He denounced at length the policy of the Administration on the several points on which the reares is affected characterising his which the negro is affected, characterizing his which the negro is affected, characterizing his position as monstrous, and referring the present era as the reign of Abraham the First.

He averred that his own loyalty was unsuspected; that he hated with undying vigor the make a race. To close lst day January, 1894.

Mr. Stevens, of Pennsylvania, introduced a series of resolutions, referring the various branches of the President's message to the appropriate committees, and that part with reference to the treatment and condition of the rebellious States, to a select committee of nine, to be appointed by the Speaker.

Mr. Davis, of Maryland, offered, as a substitute, that which relates to the duty of the United States to guarantee to every State a republican form of government, and to those States in which the government has been abrogated or overthrown, by referred to a select committee of nine, who shall report the ours necessary to carry into effect this duty.

Mr. Brooks, of New York, said if the proposition of Davis should be persisted in, he should be disposed to add that this special committee also inquire whether republican government has not been abrogated and overthrown in the North as well as in the South since the rebellion began. Mr. Lovejoy said that in spite of cetain in dividuals, there still exists a republican government in all the States of the North, without infringement or abatement. He was for the Constitution as it is, and the Union as it was, and not as it has been—fatally interpolated. He would dispossess the slaveholders of the Union as he would those who seized the Cheeneaks. He wanted to put a loyal crew Chesapeake. He wanted to put a loyal crew on board and sail the good ship.

The substitute of Davis was adopted—yeas 89, nays 80.

Resolved, That the Secretary of War be discovered by the secretary of t rected to communicate to this House the report made by Major-General McClellan concerning the organization and operations of the Army of the Potomac while under his command, and of all the army operations while he was commander in chief.

The region in which pursuit is made is so far distant from the telegraph as to make it difficult to verify such statements. Gen. We are notified that up to this time no information has reached Washington indicating that anything like an official rebel notice has been communicated to either Gen. notice has been communicated to either Gen.

All that the Texans required was a force to back them up, and they repeatedly said, that, if a sufficient army was sent to ealy said, that, it as a the centurity was sent to assist them, they would soon have Texas a light; and they have already proved the truth of their statement, for Gen. The new and splendid steamer St. Patrick, of the Archer line of packets between Memphis and Cairo, says the Memphis Bulletin, arrived at that landing under command of Capt. She is a magnitude with the most elegant cabin arrangements, fitted with every modern convenience which a fine taste and unstinted means could procure. Her cuising will be presided over by a competent and experienced Steward, aided by a cook of almost Soyer experience and talent, and the tables will be served in a style worthy of all. Her officers, at the head of whom stands the pleasant and affable Archer, need no praises at our hand, well-known as they are to travellers on the Father of Waters for years peast. In every respect she will be a mate to the popular Liberty No. 2, which, under the command of Capt. Wes. Conner, with Mr. George Hart in the office, has achieved a name and credit second to no boat that has ever touched at Memphis. We feel warranted in presenting the claims of this line of packets to the mercantne and travelling public, well satisfied that the attention and politeness of the officers, combined with the care taken in the stowing and delivering of freights, and the ed and despatch of the boats, will bear us out in alk that we have said. Colonel Misener reports from Columbia that rebel deserters and citizens are flocking to that post in great numbers, asking to be allowed to take the oath under the President's amnesty proclamation. Colonel M. says, in regard to the numbers arriving, that he never saw the like.

A few days ago, Capt. Perkins, of the 11th Tennessee cavalry, applied to Gen. Rousseau for permission to take the oath of allegiance under the amnesty proclamation. He says that the actual position of Tennessee is not understood or appreciated by Tennesseeans in the rebel army; that his eyes have been opened only since his capture.

for his departure to the field. An earlier explanation of the war will still leave the recruit entitled to his full bounty.

Details from every company in the service will act as Recruiting Agents in the various sub-districts. Entire harmony of action exists between Maj. Sidell, U.S. A., Acting Assistant Provost Marshal-General for Kontucky at Louisville, his District Provost-Marshals, and the State authorities.

It behooves every man in Kentucky to labor for the accomplishment of this common good, to assist in enisting recruits sufficient to obviate the draft, which is sure to follow if we are delinquent in this duty. Let every one lend himself to this patriotic purpose—let every neighborhood respend in the most triumphant manner to this great moral and physical obligation. Let every county determine to be among the first to satisfy this demand of justice, equality, and law. Those noble districts which have made records so proud as to exempt them from the requirements of this order may write their history in still brighter colors by continuing their contributions to our ranks. Let it be remembered, that, in some manner, our quota must be raised—that volunteers receive large bounties and drafted men receive none—that for every new recruit returned to the Prevost Marshal 315, and for every one who has served nine months $22, will be paid the party producing him; that to the 5th of January, 1864, only, is given the privilege of filling our quota by voluntary enlistments, and that then will follow an inexorable draft, bearing in its train neither bounty nor honor.

Induced by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters (purely vegetable), hosts of ignorent Quacks and unscrupulous adventures have opened upon suffering humanity the floodgates of Nostrums in the shape of poor whiskey, vilely compounded with injurious drugs, and christened Tonics, Stomachics, and Bitters.

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparatins in plethoric bottles and big bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters; which, instead of curing, only aggravate disease, and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair.

Do you want something to strengthen you? Do you want a good appetite? Do you want to build up your constitution? Do you want to feel well? Do you want to get rid of nervousness?

Do you want energy? Do you want to sleep well? Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling? If you do, use Hoofland's German Bitters. From Rev. J. Newton Rrown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Modicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of me sufficient reasens why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others. I do this more readly in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefy an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great and long-continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by quently exceeding three millions daily, and as it is well known that the Secretary of the Treasury has ample and unfailing resources in the Duties on Imports and Internal Revenues, and in the issue of the Interest bearing Legal Tender Treasury Notes, it is almost a certainty that he will not find it necessary, for along time to come, to seek a market for any other long or permanent Loans, THE INTEREST AND PRINCIPAL OF WHICH ARE PAYABLE IN GOLD. Prudence and self-interest must force the minds of those centemplating the formation of National Banking Associations, as well as the minds of all who have idle money on their hands, to the prompt conclusion that they should lose no time in subscribing to this most popular Loan. It will soon be beyond their reach and advance to a handsome premium, as was the result with the "Seven Thirty" Loan, when it was all sold and could no longer be subscribed for at par. It is a Six per Cent. Loan, the Interest and Principal payable in Coin, thus yielding over

So that it is hoped that the surplus Coin in the Treasury, at no distant day, will enable the United States to resume specie pay ments upon all liabilities.

Where those afflicted with any ferm of PEIVATE DISEASE can receive prompt treatment without risk or exposure, vis: Siphilis, Gonorrheas, Gleet, Strictures, Uleers, Tumors, Cancers, Secondary and Constitutional Siphilis, Diseases of the Kidneys, etc. By this system it is proved that the venerial complaint is as entirely under the control of medicine as is a common cold events. and permanent cures are constantly being effected at the Infirmary.

YOUNG MEN, TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE—
Dr. H devotes much of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret habit which ruins beth body and mind, untiting the unfortunate individual for either business or society. The sad effects of these early habits, or the excess of riper years, are to weaken and debitiate the constitution, destroy the physical and mental powers, diminish and enfectle the natural feelings, and exhaust the vital energies of manhood: the pleasures of life are marred, the object of marriage frustrated, and existence fiscil rendered a term of unceasing misery and regret. Such persons, especially those contemplating marriage, should lose no time in making immediate application, as Dr. H., by his new treatment, is enabled to secure a speedy and permanent cure.
